

Evidence of Participation for the Real Talk for Real Change Symposia Series

Evidence of participation: This is to certify that the undersigned has attended the program described below.

Directions: This form can be submitted to verify participation in one or more Real Talk for Real Change (RTRC) Symposia Series events. Participants must provide the information requested in the reflective statement box to complete this form.

Title of activity: Real Talk for Real Change Symposia Series

Description/nature of event: RTRC is a free virtual learning opportunity open to the public. The RTRC symposia series focuses on critical issues of racial justice in education by centering the voices of University of Wisconsin–Madison scholars of color and community members. Our hope is to share knowledge and facilitate conversations that will equip our University of Wisconsin–Madison and the wider education community to focus on equity in our education policies, curriculum, and practices of teaching and learning.

Recordings of all RTRC Symposia Series events, including four from fall 2020, are available at:
place.education.wisc.edu/k12-programs/real-talk-for-real-change.

Training provided by: Over 14 presenters, including renowned subject matter experts.

Dates: February–April 2021

Location: Online

Duration: (select all applicable events)

February 25, 2021: The Power of Real Talk to Make Real Change (2 hours)

March 25, 2021: Centering the Whole Child in Teaching and Learning (2 hours)

April 22, 2021: Rethinking Schools, Rethinking Learning (2 hours)

_____ Total number of hours

Reflective statement: Briefly describe or summarize the activities, discuss the skills or knowledge acquired, and indicate, if applicable, how the new skills and knowledge will be applied in the context of your work.

Name of Participant

Signature of Participant